Merchant Specialties This Week in Honolulu

BENSON, SMITH & CO., LTD. Hotel and Fort street. Are offering a modern vibrator, Galion patent, for $15. It has all of the attachments found in the more expensive machines and is worked from the electric light socket.

THE CLARISSA, Hotel and Fort, offer for the week men's shirts at $1.25 and $1.50; pyjamas, $1.50 a suit; underwear, 75 cents a garment; history, $1.00 a box; new shape mats for $1.50 and belts from 50 cents up. The values are said to be good.

FITZPATRICK BROS. Smokers are advised by the Fitzpatricks that the dove bird is the best of all the Manila product in smokes. There is a flavor and purity about them and a regularity of manufacture, that recommends the Rizal to any one who uses tobacco. Fort and Hotel and Fort below King street.

E. O. HALL & SON, LTD. Corner Fort and King street. Are selling this week a hand oil stove, something suited to the wants of a small bachelors family. They are priced from $5.50 to $12 according to the number of burners. An oil heater, a good thing for the home in this variable weather and in the cool mornings, sells for $5.50.

HAWAIIAN ELECTRIC CO. King street near Richards. Making a drive this week on tungsten lamps. These are inconsistent, for users of tungsten say they save on their light bills. A 40-watt lamp, giving more light for less money than an ordinary 16-watt power lamp.

HOLLISTER DRUG CO. Fort street below Hotel. Besides handling drugs and other groceries, is known as the place for excellence for securing high grade seeds for flowers or vegetable gardens. They are fresh.

JAPANESE BAZAAR. Fort street, opposite Panama, and near the corner. The best place to buy Pima cloth. The assortment includes many pastel shades and the price in this case is only 15 cents a yard. Turners are heavy buyers of these silks.

MANUFACTURERS' SHOE CO. Offer exquisite shoes for evening wear for ladies aiming to meet the demand to be made for foot wear for the society functions to take place during fleet week. The stock is large in this establishment and men and women's shoes are to be found in all for her at the fishmarket. She explained that she made the request because of his knowledge of Japanese, which would prevent the ladies who sold fish from working off icehouse fish on him instead of fresh. Chester cheerfully complied with the request, went into the nearest grocery and bought a box of sardines and sent it to her, and it was a small box at that. The lady has her opinion of Japanese interpreters, and of Doyle in particular.

JORDAN'S, Fort above King. Will begin a sale of embroidery and lace on Tuesday morning. Manager Curtis of Jordans is on the mainland buying in a stock of new goods and this time must be sold to make room for those to arrive.

TROUBLES OF THE OSBOURNE FAMILY

Relatives of Robert Louis Stevenson Air Domestic Woes in the Courts.

The shade of Robert Louis Stevenson, had it been hovering near the precincts of Judge Mogan's court yesterday, would have been pained to hear the things that were said about the domestic troubles of his stepson, Lloyd Osbourne, and Katherine Osbourne, who is young her literary husband for separate maintenance, backed by a charge of desertion, according to a San Francisco despatch.

Little was done in the case yesterday having any strict relation to its legal phases, but there was a considerable human interest given by the presence of Mrs. Osbourne, and by the interchanges of the attorneys, throwing light, as they did, upon the homicide of the famous parties involved in the suit. "Mr. and Mrs. Osbourne are high class, nervous people," said Edgar D. Pixley, the husband's attorney. "They came to an agreement in relation to their property rights one day, and upset it the next."

"Is there no way in which these high-class, nervous people can come to an agreement which will stand?" asked Judge Mogan.

Pixley thought that they might, if given three days, were allowed them to think it over.

Mary Sullivan, Mrs. Osbourne's attorney, had no objection, and felt as Stevens promised to use their good offices in bringing the couple together again so far as their property rights are concerned.

Mrs. Osbourne alleges that Osbourne, who is in New Zealand, has an account of $10,000 in stocks and bonds that she ought to get paid $10,000 for the support of his wife and son. Alan Osbourne, a lawyer, and Louis Stevenson, the son, are engaged in the suit.

Stevenson, who married in April last, 8% debt holder, however, did not share the meeting and did not bring in his son, but they did come to an agreement to some extent. The son has been engaged to act as attorney for the wife and son in the suit.

Wants Children Educated.

The couple, however, are not the only ones who have been separated by the same cause. Mrs. Osbourne, for instance, has a son, and Mrs. Stevenson, a daughter, both of whom are now separated from their parents, but have been brought up to date in the same manner as the wife and son of Stevenson.

Mrs. Osbourne, at the time the separation took place, was granted full charge of Mrs. Stevenson's son. When she has to go away, she will be given the care of him until he reaches the age of 18.
